Young Israel Shomrai Emunah (YISE) is hosting a community-wide training on Sunday, July 14

The training sessions are designed to empower individuals in caring for their own safety, not only in school or shul, but in any public space.

The training is FREE to the community, but registration is required
 Each course will be offered three times to accommodate as many participants as possible.*

*Additional sessions may be added based on demand.

To register for training sessions, go to <https://www.yise.org/training>

STOP

THE BLEED

(2 hours)

12:30pm, 3:00pm, 5:00pm

The Stop the Bleed program was developed by the American College of Surgeons and the Committee on Trauma, and launched in 2015.

Up to 1 in 5 deaths by trauma may be preventable if timely medical care is provided after injury. Traumatic events occur every day from events such as vehicle crashes, falls, and violent assaults. In addition, multi-casualty events, such as attacks on religious institutions, often result in delayed arrival of a medical response. Irreversible shock can occur within minutes due to severe blood loss, resulting in death.

This class creates active bystanders by teaching skills that can control bleeding before responders arrive, saving lives.

Civilian Response to Active Shooter Event

C.R.A.S.E.

(90 minutes)

1:00pm, 3:00pm, 5:00pm

This Active Threat/Active Shooter training course was developed as an exclusive collaboration between SCN and the ALERRT Center at the Texas State University, recognized by the FBI as best practice.

It is specifically designed to provide members of the Jewish community with proven defense/survival strategies to implement during critical incidents. The course teaches the "mindset" of response and survival as well as key practical active threat response strategies and decision-making.

Advances in Cancer Treatment: Insights from a doctor and patients

New treatments have improved the prognosis for a number of cancers. One breakthrough is immunotherapy, which uses the body’s immune system to prevent, control and eliminate cancers.

A panel will address a wide range of issues:

- Learn how immunotherapy works, its potential and ongoing research
- Understand treatment stages, how to advocate for yourself and locate and assess resources
- Hear patients describe their journey in coping with treatment and living with cancer as a chronic disease and glean a family member’s insights about quality of life issues

Speakers:

- Dr. Julius Strauss, oncologist and researcher
- Three patients in different stages of cancer treatment and remission
- Rabbi Menachem Winter, Rosh Kollel of the Greater Washington Community Kollel
